

Fear for Captives as Troops Battle Bandit Army
SENATE TRAMPLES ON BLAINE AND WETS

Assault May Add Fuel to Rage of Chinese Brigands

Anxiety over the foreign captives held in the Shantung hills by Chinese bandits was heightened Thursday when word reached Tientsin from Tsaochwang of a clash between troops of the Chinese government and members of the outlaw band. A detachment of bandits, attempting to join the main body at the Paotzuk mountain stronghold, was said to have been driven back after a sharp fight with the soldiers.

This incident, it is feared, may add fuel to the smouldering vindictiveness of the bandits, who already are described in an unconfirmed report to have buried three Chinese captives over a precipice to their deaths as a warning to the authorities. The brigands repeatedly have threatened to kill all their prisoners if the troops investing the hills were not withdrawn and the bandits, in accord with the terms drafted by their chieftain, granted immunity and enrolled in the national army.

Further advices from Tsaochwang confirmed the report that the bandits had moved their captives further back into the mountain wilderness. Troops had not withdrawn Thursday, but remained surrounding the territory occupied by the bandits and communication with the captives was becoming increasingly difficult.

Officials attacked. Another alarming evidence of the general unrest in China was recorded on the arrival in Shanghai of the train from (Continued on page 10)

A. B. ADAMS IS NEW SENATOR

Denver.—Alvin B. Adams, of Pueblo, is Colorado's new United States senator. He was appointed Thursday by Governor, William H. Bennett. Senator Adams is a democrat. He will succeed the late Samuel D. Nichols, republican, who died in April. Governor Bennett ignored recommendations of Ex-President Wilson, William G. McAdoo and William J. Bryan in making the appointment.

"I am in favor of law enforcement," Mr. Adams said in a speech here, "and that applies to the eighteen amendment. It is a part of the constitution and should not be dodged. Bootleggers, of course, are denounce, but they are not so much of a menace as the saloon. We should do something to eliminate the bootlegger. There is less drinking now than there was before prohibition, and people generally are more prosperous as a result."

Cole was fatally hurt when the automobile he was driving was struck by an interurban train on the North Shore Electric road. His companion, August Rasmussen, suffered a broken leg.

MAY INVESTIGATE DEATH OF GIRL

Blood Poisoning, Result of Illegal Operation, Is Held Cause.

An investigation is expected to be made by authorities in the death at Mercy hospital Monday of Miss Hazel Kranz, 17 daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Kranz, Fort Atkinson, after a telephone operator in that city.

Questioned Thursday, Dr. W. A. Munn, Janesville, admitted the girl died of poisoning. An illegal operation was performed on the girl, he said, and he was not informed of it.

Asked if phoritis caused her death, Dr. Munn said "it was something like that." Dr. Munn attended the girl after she was brought here at 2 p. m. Monday from Fort Atkinson, where she was unconscious in a dying condition, it was said at the hospital, and died four hours later.

Named Man, Assertion. A Fort Atkinson youth is said to have been arrested by the girl. Questioned concerning the name of the physician who performed the operation, Dr. Munn refused to state who it was, but was understood, however, the physician is from Whitefish.

The father of the girl, questioned over the phone Thursday, indicated that he had been performing the operation prior to her death and said he would not press prosecution.

The girl had been employed at the telephone office in Fort Atkinson, where she was working for a year, the father said. The body was taken to the parents' home at Fort Atkinson and funeral services were held at 2 p. m. Thursday, the Rev. August Nicholson, Fort Atkinson, officiating. Burial was in Milton.

No Burial Permit. No record could be found at the office of Dr. Fred Welch, Thursday, of a burial permit having been issued for the girl, although it must be filed within a certain time after death.

The case was put into the hands of Dr. Munn by Dr. Young of Fort Atkinson. No action has been taken in the case by either District Attorney O'Brien or District Attorney Alfred L. Godfrey, Wauwatosa county.

Sachtjen Bill Is Handed Decisive Beating, 19 to 14

(By Associated Press.)

Madison.—Governor Blaine and the wet forces of the legislature met a decisive defeat in the senate Thursday when the Sachtjen bill, restricting the search and seizure clause of the Severson prohibition enforcement law, was killed, 19 to 14. This measure, the principal move of the anti-prohibitionists to restrict enforcement, had the open endorsement of the governor.

3 ARRESTED IN BOOZE RAIDS ON 5TH WARD HOMES

Moccero, Bliven and Vell Are Taken by Chief Newman.

SOME IS BURIED. Alleged Hootch in Hot Water Bottles Found in Hole in Yard.

Finding alleged moonshine in hot water bottles and all sorts of containers, besides a dozen empty jugs with a strong "moon" odor, Chief Newman, who was on duty at the time, made raids on three Fifth ward homes, Thursday morning, arresting Joe Moccero, Elias Bliven and Frank Vell.

Arraigned in Municipal court at 2 p. m. all demanded examinations, which were set for May 21 at 10 a. m. Bill of each was fixed at $500.

Both Moccero and Bliven have been in news on their charges. The charge against all three this time is possession without a permit.

Two Quarts Buried. At the Moccero home, 1102 Pleasant street, police claim to have found in two hot water bottles, buried in the yard near the house, in addition, five five-gallon empty jugs were confiscated here.

At the Bliven home, 11 North Washington street, yielded two victims. Alleged "moon" was found in the kitchen and also in the room occupied by Vell. Three five-gallon empty jugs were found and under a bed, a large keg was removed from another part of the house.

6 Officers in Party. Police were unsuccessful in a third raid. H. Ryan represented Moccero in court and bail for him was assured. The others had no attorneys.

OFFICIAL RECORDS OF KAISER NOW IN MINNESOTA LIBRARY

Minneapolis.—Confidential extracts filed, prepared for the use of officials high in the military and diplomatic circles of the late autocratic regime in Germany, and formerly owned by a member of the German secret service, are now a part of the University of Minnesota library.

The books were purchased about two weeks ago from a book seller in Germany, according to F. K. Walker, head librarian at the university.

There are 28 volumes to the set, which covers the years from July, 1915, until the close of the war, and give clippings from the press of the world, concerning all bits of information which were considered of value to German military and diplomatic staff.

The files were compiled by the periodical section of the Central Bureau of Foreign Affairs.

10 Dry Votes. The drys held their solid bloc of 10 votes on every roll call. Three attempts to save the measure by amendment were all killed before the final lineup for indefinite postponement.

The Sachtjen bill came before the senate with the understanding that it would be immediately disposed of. Speeches, however, continued more than an hour. The dry forces made no defense of their stand.

Benney Defeats Sub. Wets directed their principal fight for adoption of the Benney sub-amendment, which modified the original Sachtjen bill to the extent that specific penalties against officers operating under illegal search warrants, were removed. Senator Theodore Benney, author of the amendment, said it merely placed the search and seizure section of the Volstead act in the state prohibition enforcement act.

In an extended talk, during which he quoted from several speeches of Governor Blaine in defense of the movement to amend the search and seizure clause, Senator Benney declared he attempted merely to bring the provisions of the Severson act within the constitutional guarantee. He asserted that the republican party platform urged changes in the search and seizure section of the Severson act and contended that his amendment to the Sachtjen bill afforded a means of carrying out that pledge.

Vote on Wet Bill. The vote on this amendment which also carried the final motion to kill the unamended Sachtjen bill, was:

For killing: Casperson, Garry, Heck, Huber, Johnson, Kemp, Kuehn, L. A. Luge, Hildner, Roelke, Schumann, Severson, Smith, Staudenmayer, Tossaint, Titus, Werden—17.

Against killing: Benney, Bligh, Burke, Cashman, Casperson, Garry, Hildner, Hirsch, Moran, Morris, Polakowski, Quick, White—12.

Patrolled for killing: Skogmo and Clark; against killing, Huber and Mahon.

Parent-Teachers in Convention.

The convention of Parent-Teachers associations of the state marks a long stride in the relations of the school to the home. We have been taught, ever since Wickersham established the normal school idea and Parker began his new system of teaching, 50 years ago, that the teacher was in loco parentis. In fact for about seven years on the average, in the life of every child in the United States, the teacher is in the place of the parent for as many hours as the parents themselves, and the future attitude of the child toward life is a marked reflection of the mind of the teacher. That would be more emphasized should the teacher follow the child through all the grades but the changes that are made in teachers as advancement comes from term to term makes the mental attitude of the child a composite of teachers rather than that of any individual.

Parents as a general thing heretofore, have not been deeply concerned with the teachers. That is, they have known little of her or him, have been satisfied to consider the teacher a part of the necessary machinery for the life program, and that is about all. Now we have a much more investigating attitude. We want to be close to the teacher in her work, give her encouragement and assistance, and make out of the school something more than a prison place where the iron hand of law keeps the child confined when any one of the children knows that it is much more comfortable to be out and playing.

These parent-teacher associations springing up all over the country, have plenty of opportunity to make the school exactly what it is hoped it will be as a directing force in the lives of the children to make better citizens and not merely children filled up like a book of facts with dates and doings, rules and regulations.

Senator Huber says it is unsteady employment that makes the radical. Hasn't the senator always had a good job?

The Death of a Gould

One of the Gould family has just achieved a place on the front page by dying in France. He had been there before, generally by reason of marital matters and discussions of the handling of the estate of Jay Gould. George Gould, the dead man, was a son of Jay Gould, country storekeeper, who later as a railroad wrecker and stock gambler, gave to Wall street much of the unsavory reputation which it has since borne in the mental attitude of the mass of people westward from New York. With Jim Fisk, Jay Gould was the man who wrecked the Erie. Later he made millions out of the Missouri Pacific and dealt in railroads as a man deals cards across the green table. He died rich in money, most of the Gould fortune left at the time has been dissipated. The Missouri Pacific was taken from the Gould direction a number of years ago. Whatever the Goulds had the public paid for by being legitimately skinned.

It is said that it is but two generations from shirt sleeves to shirt sleeves. That may some day be registered as a fact in the fortunes of this family. It is possible that there are many personal credits on the ledger to George Gould. But he was the legatee of that period of Wall street gambling and railroad building which built fortunes without consideration of victims either in number or amount contributed. There is nothing in this record that deserves to be called to the attention of the rising generation as an example to follow.

The state bar of Wisconsin, noted for its number of excellent lawyers, has lost a man of high attainments and one for whom there seemed the brightest promise, in the death of Edward W. Miller so tragically in Milwaukee. Mr. Miller had just begun a career as United States district attorney for the eastern district of the state and his untimely death will be mourned generally.

New York wants the democratic national convention for 1924. That is all right and then Hearst and Hyland should be the ticket easily nominated.

LEARNING A TRADE

By FREDERICK J. HASKIN

Washington.—In the olden days when a boy or youth wanted to learn to be a skilled worker in any craft or trade, he, with the consent of his parent or guardian, apprenticed himself to a master workman and served a novitiate of a stipulated number of years. Nowadays he goes to school, and he is going to school in increasingly large numbers every year.

This is the result of concerted efforts that are being made by federal and state authorities and by various trade associations to cope with a condition of affairs that has grown alarming—a wide-spread shortage of skilled artisans in almost every trade and industry. An educational campaign is being waged to impress upon the youth of the land the desirability of learning a trade, and at the same time steps are being taken to provide facilities for such training under the most modern conditions and methods.

Private schools have been established by employers' associations in many cities for instruction in such trades as painting, plumbing, carpentry, bricklaying, masonry, plastering, etc., and public courses are being conducted by states in cooperation with the federal government. The federal aid is being directed through the federal board for vocational education and the United States bureau of education.

The number of young people taking these public courses has almost trebled since 1918. In the latter year the enrollment in trade and industrial classes was 117,934, while last year it was 297,142 and the figures for this year will be even larger.

During 1919 there were enrolled in trade and industrial evening, part-time and all day schools 24,765 students, while in general continuation schools there were 50,782, making a total enrollment in all types of classes reimbursed from trade and industrial funds of 135,584. In 1920 the corresponding figures were 32,707 and 98,085, with a total of 130,792. In 1921 trade and industrial schools enrolled 97,843, while general continuation schools gave training to 119,657 boys and girls, making a total enrollment of 217,500.

Enrollment reported for 1922 in federally aided trade and industrial schools was 137,977, with 165,911 in the general continuation schools, a total for all classes of 297,788.

Illustrative of the educational work that is being carried on in the various states the statistics for three typical states may be cited:

Massachusetts.—During the last year there were reimbursed in part from federal funds evening schools in 22 cities, part-time schools in 27 cities and all day schools in 15 cities, with a total enrollment of 10,323 pupils, while reimbursement was also made to 42 cities for general continuation schools with an enrollment of 22,361.

Ohio.—Twenty-one cities reported 28 schools, with an enrollment of 3,146, giving general continuation or trade extension part-time training to those who have withdrawn from the all day schools. An evening school in related and shop subjects was conducted in 38 schools in 35 cities. This state is reported as carrying out an excellent program of foreman training, with the cooperation of the Ohio manufacturers, as one of the biggest avenues to the promotion of other types of industrial education. Ohio has also developed a large program in coal mining instruction, with 250 miners enrolled in a 40 weeks course on mine gases, mine ventilation, timbering and safety lamps.

Michigan.—Twelve cities provided evening classes for 5,782 students; part-time trade extension classes were conducted in 11 cities with an enrollment of 7,323 pupils; 6 cities conducted 21 all-day unit trade courses, with an enrollment of 470; general continuation courses were offered in 8 cities, with an enrollment of 615, and the teacher training institution enrolled a total of 703 in resident and extension courses.

The action by the federal agencies is not only to meet the immediate needs, which the trade associations are already working to meet, but to prepare for the gradual and orderly growth of trade and industrial activities. Not only is vocational work in the schools being enlarged, but trade teachers are being trained for this work, as exemplified in Massachusetts, where teacher training in industrial education is conducted by the state board.

One of the big programs undertaken by a private organization is that of the National Trade Extension Bureau, representing the Employing Plumbers' Association, which has published a book containing a national apprenticeship program and outlining courses of training now being carried on in 12 David Harkins School, St. Louis, Valparaiso University, Valparaiso, Indiana, the Trade School of Philadelphia, and the Evening Trade Schools of Erie, Pa.

This volume also gives figures as to the present need for plumbers' apprentices in the several states, showing what might be termed a "deficit" of 2,640 in New York; 2,204 in Pennsylvania; 1,358 in New Jersey; 906 in Michigan; 860 in Massachusetts; 230 in Connecticut; 187 in Rhode Island, etc.

The shortage of apprentices which results naturally in a shortage of skilled workers is attributed in part to restrictions imposed by labor organizations, but more to the present day tendency of the American youth to seek what is known as the white collar jobs. No small part of the propaganda now being carried on is aimed at the correction of this tendency and the exploitation of the advantages of learning a trade.

Experts who are studying the labor situation in this country say that the need of skilled artisans and operatives is increasing more rapidly than ever as a result of the shortage of common labor, which in turn is due largely to restricted immigration. Now more money must be done by machines, if we are to maintain our industrial peace and this in turn calls for more and more trained workers.

There are insistent demands for modification of the immigration law, but there is little indication that congress will yield to them, and in the circumstances the manufacturer has no recourse but to turn to increasing the individual output of the men available. Better management will be a step in this direction, but of more importance is better machinery, with better trained labor to operate it.

A good deal of skilled labor is coming into the United States from the north of Europe, the official figures showing that immigration during the last few months of 1922 was almost double what it was for the corresponding period of the year before.

However, it is recognized that this will not solve the problem permanently. Hence the drive that is being made for vocational training of our own young people by trade associations, by cooperative efforts of employers' associations with organizations of workers, and by the federal government in conjunction with the states.

That lower New York dictates to the world. A change has come over politics since Butler knew politics. A president can be elected without New York, New Jersey, or even Indiana.

JUST FOLKS

By EDGAR A. GUEST.

A NEW DAY.

Come on let's start anew today,
Let's sing the old mistakes away,
The failures and the hurts and stings,
The misery of by-gone things,
And wipe the slate of what has been,
Here is a morning fresh and clean,
Untarnished by a rusty past,
A day no shame has overcast.

What was has gone. Along the way
Let us wipe away all that is old,
With this hour let us start anew,
Brave for the task we find to do,
What if we have not borne with fate?
To prove our worth 'tis not too late,
With what of life remains we can
In every trial play the man.

Forget the past, though thick beset
With shame and failure and regret,
There is a new and shining day
Of which no mortal tongue can say
An evil word. 'Tis yet too soon!
Until the fading afternoon
It waits upon us all to see
How we shall write its history.

No man so low but cannot say:
'I will not stoop to shame today!
Beginning now I will be true,
'This day I start my life anew.'
I can't use razor with my pen,
'Life has a place for me to fill.'
'Who would be good has had to say,
'I start my life anew today.'

ON THE SPUR OF THE MOMENT

By ROY K. MOULTON.

GOING CAMPING? TAKE A TIP AND—

Don't forget a bed is really nothing without sheets.

And please remember paper napkins wipe away the eats.

Bring along your pillow cases when you pack your pork.

And should you wish to dine in style take a knife and fork.

An army blanket will be useful if the nights are cold.

And oilcloth is the best thing for the table I am told.

To bring both bath and dish towels has always been good dope.

And sometimes during your vacation you may use some soap.

Take with you a flash light and you will have your own sh.

And fishing tackle for the fishers when they fish for fish.

A kodak and some kodak films are very useful things.

Together with your radio and ukulele strings.

A rubber ball adds pleasure to the swimming; bring a beach.

But don't forget you can't go in without a bathing suit.

Cart along your flannel pants, you're sure to make a hit.

And bring along your friend umbrella, it may rain a bit.

Vamp your comb and brush along you may meet girls, you know.

And take to your razor with you just in case your whiskers grow.

The tooth brush and the shaving brush are quite essential things.

You might take up a pistol just in case your neighbors snore.

A pair of slippers always come in handy when it's damp.

And cigars and matches are an asset to a camp.

In case your shoes get rusty you could utilize some paste.

But don't forget your checkbook if you pack your grip in haste.

He being an Englishman, we shall probably have to refer to Dr. Conan Doyle of spook fame as a roost-bird medium.

There is another heavy discussion going on among scientists and churchmen. The question this time is whether the recording angel is a man or a woman. It will be pretty generally hoped by men that this dignitary is a man, and the reason for this hope is obvious. But we fear it is not true. In our humble opinion it will be a woman, probably an ex-stenographer who is very feet with the shorthand. In the old days a man might put all the doings down in his clunky long-hand style, but we have speeded up especially since the war. No man could write fast enough to record half the doings of the day.

The first woman collector of internal revenue in the United States has just been appointed by President Harding upon the endorsement of Senators McKinley and McCormick of Illinois. She is Mrs. Mabel Gilmore Reinecke, Chicago, and her territory will include her home town and some of the adjacent area. She succeeds John G. Cannon at a salary of $6,000 a year.

Mrs. Reinecke is well known in Illinois political circles, in which she has been prominent since 1911, when she organized the Progressive Republican League and became a leader in that organization. She is also among the foremost feminists in the state and has been a constant supporter of all equal rights movements. She is a follower in politics of Attorney General Edward Brundage of Illinois.

FORTY YEARS AGO

May 17, 1883.—Capt. Edward Rigler's horse was stolen today while he was standing on South River street but was soon found being driven to Beloit by its thief. There was a bad fire scare in the Union house this morning, as one of the boarders there had left his pipe lit in his pocket when he went to bed. No damage other than by smoke, was done.

STOMACH WITHOUT ANY STUMP

A downward sagging or displacement of stomach or intestine is a common cause of stasis, or constipation, and of the various symptoms of auto-intoxication, although the posture of the individual may appear good and there is no apparent abdominal relaxation. Indeed, some of the most misleading cases, in which the symptoms also suggest such local conditions as cancer, have been found to be nothing else than stasis, or downward displacement of the stomach, demonstrable only by X-ray pictures.

Sometimes the abdomen is prominent, though it does not slump. But the digestive disturbance grows slowly, a little worse despite treatment with "digestive tablets" and the patient begins to lose weight and strength, and the loss of strength lowers nutrition, and tends to still further increase the sagging of those self-sustaining vicious circles.

Indigestion, which is quickly relieved by reclining, especially lying with the hips a foot or so higher than the shoulders, suggests stasis as a cause. In such cases attacks of distress or pain are sometimes prevented by lying in that position for a time after eating.

When considerable underweight is a symptom, it is essential that the patient shall be nourished to the limit, given the rest cure and forced feeding, in order to take up the slack. The same is true in case of floating kidney. A woman with a loose kidney is usually long and lean. Nervousness, of course, leanness is next to nervousness.

One of the few serious objections to radical fasting or limitation of the diet, according to Dr. Salinger, who discusses the subject in the Chicago Medical Journal, is the possibility of favoring sugar or protein in individuals predisposed to the condition. A woman with a loose kidney is usually long and lean. Nervousness, of course, leanness is next to nervousness.

Girl of Ghost Mountain

SYNOPSIS. Peter Sheridan, young New York lawyer, comes to Arizona because of threatened tuberculosis. He goes to his ranch, near Ghost Mountain, where he meets a woman, Juanita, who is a ghost. He is attracted to her, and she is attracted to him. He is rescued by a young woman and a giant. He is rescued by a young woman and a giant. He is rescued by a young woman and a giant.

"Then let me talk to her," Thora, handed her rifle to Jackson, took the bony horse alongside the fretful bronco, head to flank. She put one hand upon the horse's mane, Juanita's saddle, above the girl's own hands. The Mexican looked up wonderingly at the great woman, so much her opposite, North against Latin, blond against brunette, ice against fire, both in that moment elemental.

"Are you alone speaking—the truth? Look at me in the eyes, so," Thora said, looking into the eyes of Juanita. Juanita broke out.

"Senora, I swear I speak true, Madre di Dios! Sangre di Cristo!" She crossed herself, snatching her hands from beneath Thora's palm, picking up a cross from her bosom and kissing it.

"Never you have mind all that," said Thora heavily. You tell me, woman to woman, do you tell the truth? You shall not write until I find out. Suppose you have lying I take you an I have break every bone in your body, slow, one at a time, like this."

A quiet hung from the horn of the Mexican saddle, its handle of hardwood, seasoned palo verde, stout as steel, covered with woven horse-hair. Thora took the whip and broke the girl between her fingers as easily as if it had been a brittle stick of candy. Juanita's face paled.

"I tell you the truth," she faltered. "Mujer a la mujer, woman to woman, I tell you the truth."

"Then we go. You have heard."

Alkali in Shampoos Bad For Washing Hair.

Many soaps and prepared shampoos contain too much alkali, which is very injurious, as it dries the scalp and makes the hair brittle. The best thing to use is a natural coconut oil shampoo, for this is pure and entirely gentle. It is inexpensive and beats anything else all to pieces. You can get this at any drug store, and a few ounces will last the whole family for months.

Two or three teaspoonfuls of Mulsified is all that is required. Simply moisten the hair with water and rub in. It makes an abundance of rich, creamy lather, cleanses thoroughly, and rinses out easily. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and is soft, fresh looking, bright, fluffy, wavy and easy to manage. Besides, it loosens and takes out every particle of dust, dirt and dandruff. Be sure and ask for "Mulsified" coconut oil shampoo.

Heart and Home Problems

BY ELIZABETH THOMPSON. Lectures May be Addressed to Mrs. Thompson, in Care of the Gazette.

HEARTSICK: "Don't change your husband!" is very sound advice. Only too often when a woman divorces one man to marry another she spends the time thinking of the happiness she might have enjoyed with the first man. The second proves to be just as much of a disappointment as the first. Some women (as well as some men) are willing to compromise in matters which cause unhappiness. In your case if you explained more and tried to avoid situations which would cause your husband to be jealous, you would probably find yourself much happier.

Of course if you are miserably unhappy with your husband and find that a divorce is the only thing that will bring you happiness, go to an attorney and get his advice. It will be unfortunate to separate the child from his mother, but if you are no worse than keep the home in a state of inharmonious.

In the matter of divorce you and you alone can make your decision. Dear Mrs. Thompson: Do men really like the silly, talkative, glib, confident, flattering, petting, "cling-vibe" type of girls, or do they think more of the plain, shy, feminine, quiet, frank, pleasant, reserved, athletic, and friendly sort of a girl? It seems as though fellows like to have fun with the former, but I think they admire the wife sort of girl more. Don't you? Some people think it depends upon the individual. What is your frank opinion?

It is proper for a gentleman to assist a lady with her coat and boots. Dear Mrs. Thompson: I am a married woman and my husband is jealous of me. He doesn't want me to go out at night. What can I do?

YOUR BABY AND MINE
BY MYRTLE MEYER ELDRED
Register and Tribune Syndicate, Des Moines.

Mrs. Eldred is happy to advise all mothers about the care of their babies. She is a mother of five children, and she is a mother of five children, and she is a mother of five children.

THE FIRST SIX WEEKS
Six weeks after your baby is born go to your physician and have a thorough physical examination. It takes six weeks for the internal organs to return to their former positions after childbirth and then you should be careful to avoid too vigorous exercises, in a word continue the care that you gave yourself previous to the baby's birth.

Until these six weeks have passed a mother cannot get at the baby's head without a successful nurse. Par too often these discouraging first weeks determine a mother to wean her baby without taking into account that it will only wait until she is able to do so.

Please tell me what to do. I am 29 years old. MARRIED WOMAN.

You say that your husband is jealous when you go with other married women and "the rest of the young folk." Of course "the rest of the young folk" may mean that he really has cause to be jealous. If I were you I would humor him enough to please him as my best friend and go places with him more than with other people. Do not go with "the rest of the young folk" if there are men present because you only cause your husband unhappiness and now that you are married it is not fair to do such a thing when your husband objects. I think you are a very good girl and I do all I can to please him but it is with me. When I go with other married women who with anyone unless he is

When the hair splits on the ends it comes from a lack of scalp secretion causing the hair to dry out. Clip off these ends regularly, as the splitting continues up through the whole length of the hair if left. This dryness may also be caused by the hair being too long. Massage a little oil into the scalp at night before you shampoo, and massage the scalp some every day. In addition to which add a good tonic several times each week.

EVANSVILLE FETE COMES SATURDAY

Eighty to Take Part in Costume: Grand March and Queen Crowning.

Evansville.—Interest of the school faculty and pupils is centered in the May fete which will be staged at the park at 2:30 p. m. Saturday. The exercises will be preceded by a grand march of participants from the high school to the park.

Practice has been going on for several weeks under direction of Miss Reba Hayden, supervisor of music, assisted by other teachers. Eighty children of the high school and the grades will participate in costume.

Through a vote of the school, Miss Jean Smith, high school junior, was selected Queen of May. The coronation is expected to be held with much pomp. Music will be furnished by an orchestra of Miss Dorothy Duernier, Donald Eller, Fuley Nor-

Elaborate Plans for Memorial Day Being Arranged

Evansville.—The boys in blue who fought in 1915 will not be forgotten by this city this year. Arrangements are under way for a grand celebration of Memorial Day which will include decoration of the graves of soldiers of the three wars, a parade, short services at the cemeteries and a program at the Magee's Opera house.

Arrangements are in charge of the Evansville American Legion Post, Dr. H. M. Fogo, commander. In charge of the program is J. A. Smith, chairman. Fred Graces, Dr. C. B. Cain and C. H. Buckingham have charge of decorations.

Present plans call for decoration with flags of every grave of the veterans of the Civil Spanish-American and World War during the morning of Memorial Day. In the afternoon, the parade will form on Second street, proceed to the opera house, where a meeting will be held at which patriotic addresses will be made. The parade will reform and march to the cemeteries where short memorial services will be held.

Veterans of the T. L. Sutphen G. A. R. post No. 40 and Spanish War veterans will ride in automobiles. A large turnout of World War veterans is desired, in uniform if possible. The men are asked to march regardless whether they have uniforms or not.

Music will be furnished by the high school band, directed by Ralph Jack, which on Monday gave its first concert. School children probably will march in the parade.

Hold Junior Prom on Friday Night

Evansville.—Friday will be held the social event of the season of the younger people when the annual reception and "prom" given by the juniors in honor of the senior graduating class, is held at the high school gymnasium. It will be a dance. An elaborate program has been worked out by the various committees which have been busy for several weeks.

More than 150 are expected to be seated at dinner at 8 p. m. when the program opens at the high school. Decorations will be in pink, lavender and white and an especially artistic arrangement has been worked out for decorating the gymnasium.

Oscar Koel's orchestra of Janesville will furnish music.

Heads of committees are: Guinevere Hubbard, refreshments; Julia Wilchen, and Jean Smith, entertainment; Phyllis Thorman, decorations and Lenora Scott, punch and reception. Class officers are Arthur Funk, president; Stanley Gibson, vice president; Helen Johnson, secretary and Gladys Blunt, secretary. Mrs. Grace Hartlett, advisor.

COMMERCIAL CLUB WILL MEET MONDAY

Evansville.—The postponed meeting of the Evansville Commercial club, which was to have been held Monday, probably will be held next Monday. A program is being worked out. The last closing season has been a highly successful one, with many excellent talks on topics of wide spread interest which have aroused much discussion and comment among the members.

There will be interpretive dances with solo parts by Miss Bernice Schultz, Louise Lindsay, and Bernice Park. They will chase the spring time away and call upon the May Queen for a dance. Then will come the dance of the tulips, sweet peas, water lilies, violets, Johnny Jump-ups, and daffodils. Folk dances will be given, including the Norwegian Mountain March, the king dance, and the first of May. An old time archery contest will be staged by the girls of the 6th, 5th and 8th grades.

The program, which will last two hours, will be concluded with a May pole dance by 20 high school girls.

Railroad Gates Are Now Working

Evansville.—The fight started by Evansville to secure proper protection at two downtown railroad crossings of the Chicago and Northwestern after a Rock Island woman was killed, culminated this week in the gates and wig-wag system being put into use. They were ordered by the railroad commission.

The gates at the depot crossing, painted black and red, were put into operation Tuesday. A bell is also used.

At the North Madison street crossing, the double wig-wag signal was used for the first time Thursday.

The average woman will forgive a man anything except his having let her make a fool of him, and he often forgives that.

Early Entries for State Prep Meet Show 32 Schools In

800 BOY ATHLETES FROM 70 SCHOOLS IS THE PREDICTION

When the first gun is sounded starting the 25th annual Wisconsin high school track and field meet at Camp Randall, Madison, on the afternoon of Saturday, May 26, approximately 800 boys are expected to be on the famous old grounds.

This was the indication given on Thursday morning by Fred J. Holt, Edgewood, chairman of the board of control of the Wisconsin interscholastic athletic association.

Thursday is entry-closing day for the big relay, classic or "trial" meet, which will be held on Friday and Saturday morning. When Wednesday night's mail was opened Thursday morning, 22 high schools had sent in their entries. All mail postmarked Thursday will be accepted.

New Material Available

Last year there were 53 schools on the lists and 533 youthful donors of running trunks showed up at the meet on Saturday morning. This year, "With so many early entries," said Mr. Holt, "it is pretty safe to estimate that 70 schools will send their boys to the meet and that there will be at least 800 boys taking part."

Announcement of the total entries will be made by Mr. Holt Friday afternoon.

While the advance dope points to the Milwaukee schools as the apparent winners of Class A (schools with registration of 300 or more), the "cream" of "preppers" will not have so easy running as in previous years. Milwaukee, Riverdale, winner last year, is going to have a stiff competition in this year because of the steadily increasing interest of schools in track and field events.

Madison Central Good.

Madison Central has been showing up wonderfully well in the preliminary trials in which it took first place and at the southern Wisconsin where it posted a record of 100 yards in 1.10. Last year, this Madison school was seventh. Riverdale of Milwaukee and Washington of that city at this early date promise a strong challenge to the Madison team. South and East of Milwaukee have not as good squads as in other years.

When it comes to the class B schools, University High of Madison and Monticello of that city are quite strong with Union Union throwing a scare into all competitors. Monticello won this division for schools of less than 300 in 1927.

Three Big Tournaments.

The best indication of the relative merits this season of University high and Monticello will be given when they clash in the annual tri-county meet at Monticello Thursday afternoon. Darlington, Monroe, Mineral Point, New Glarus and Brodhead are also entered. All are good schools. The Madison school has trimmed Monticello already this year, but that was in an early clash.

On Friday afternoon, the first annual meet of the Rock River Valley high school athletic league will be held at the driving park in Edgerton. Milton, Union, Edgerton, Jefferson, Fort Atkinson, Stoughton, La Crosse and Cambridge will enter teams. While Union seems to be a sure winner, Stoughton will give Coach Malone's boys a rough job.

Football of Madison, well known in this section for his excellent work as a basketball referee, will be referee of the Valley meet. The other officials will be athletes from the colleges.

Dodge County Meet.

Over in Dodge county, the fourth annual high school track and field meet will be held Saturday afternoon under the auspices of the Dodge county high school athletic association. One hundred athletes are to compete.

SNAKE STEALS FISH FROM JUNCTION BOY

By LYON HARTMAN

Milton Junction, May 16.—A boy, aged 14 years,

I cannot say whether this is a fish story or not.

It may sound fishy to any one except a boy. It is alive to the sport of clean fishing.

I was on a bridge near my home on Otter Creek fishing for minnows. The minnows were about 6 inches long. I had several in a pail. I missed them for a while. Didn't seem to count up right, for I caught one every time I threw my line in. Just as we were leaving, a boy noticed a large black water snake near our pail. I took my fish pole and poked him to see if he were dead, for he laid so still. My hook caught in his eye and he had to be killed. I put my foot on the snake's body so as to get the hook and out popped four of my 6 inch minnows alive. I put them in my pail and had a banquet as I had in the first place. Wish I were old enough and lived in town. I'd like to be an Izak Walton. I read the Izak Walton book and enjoyed it very much. P. S. I could use the 6 bucks to go to good advantage as I intend to go the limit in school.

Ryan and Jones at Phantom Lake

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE]

Madison, May 16.—John A. Ryan, director of athletics and track coach, and J. J. Ryan, football coach at the University of Wisconsin, will spend Aug. 16 to Aug. 22 at Phantom lake camp of the state Y. M. C. A. in Waubesa county where they will give daily talks to those in camp, many of whom will be high school coaches. The department of physical education of the university is anxious to do all in its power to foster clean sports among amateurs of the state. It is issuing a number of bulletins of instructions to volunteer coaches and athletes and members of the department frequently assist high school coaches in various ways. Both Coach Jones and Coach Ryan will be on their vacations at the time they go to Phantom lake, but gladly do so in the interest of clean sports.

AMATEURISM is so vital to clean athletics and college sports that the University of Wisconsin is going a long way to install the idea into the minds of the high school boys of the state. Thus, the announcement from Madison, Thursday, that Director Jones and Football Coach Ryan are going to Phantom lake camp this summer is more in evidence. By reaching the boys of the schools, the groundwork will be laid for full understanding by these lads when they enter college.

IN THIS RESPECT. Coach "Tyron-up" Yost of Michigan, speaking to lads on the Pacific coast recently said that regard less of the choice of college a boy makes, the habit he forms in high school will go with him to college. "You must create your own ability," he said, "and you will never be a failure if you let old habits die. Just get to work first. Find your place and fill it. In the game of life, as well as sports, you must find your place and fill it."

YOST went on: "Develop the spirit of aggressiveness. Our games merely represent the spirit of the American boy. Know your own limitations. Do not let them limit you. Do not let efficiency bring confidence. Do not forget service. In the game of life, you must give service for no more or less than you get out of it than he puts in."

Tommy Milton to drive Stutz Indianapolis 500-mile race.

Joe Kirkwood, Walter Hagen and Gene Sarazen qualify in British open golf meet.

Thirty five schools enter early in state track meet.

Diamond Spunkies (By A. P.)—Yankees and Athletics kept on winning. The Yankees beat the Athletics 4-1 and later the Indians 5-0. Opening of Washington-Chicago and Boston-Detroit series prevented by weather. Detroit series postponed by rain. Chicago and Boston series postponed by rain. St. Louis dropped out of the race. BRINGING UP FATHER

Beloit Club Will Join Ranks of "Ike" Waltons

One of the direct results of Tuesday night's great sportsman's meeting held here under joint auspices of the Izak Walton and the Twilight club will be to gather the Beloit Rod and Gun club into the folds of the "Ikes." This is the hope reaching here Thursday, according to local boosters of the Walton clan of anglers.

At a recent meeting of the Gateway city outdoor lovers, it was recommended that the famous old Beloit club attach with the national chapter if investigation showed it the best road to travel. Tuesday's meeting here clinched the matter. Reported up in arms over the making of a one-man commission out of the state conservation body, declaring that it becomes a political machine, Janesville and Beloit are not expected to take any adverse action, the local men being quite satisfied with Elmer S. Hall as the commissioner.

Hall in Talk to Edgerton Ikes

Edgerton.—Elmer S. Hall, Madison, conservation commissioner, addressed the local chapter of the Izak Walton League at Cullen Memorial hall, Wednesday evening. Dean Swift was named as chairman of a committee to confer with other local chapters as to the best method of taking the carp from Lake Koshkonong.

Milton College Trims Lutherans

Watertown.—Milton college, with veteran Pedro Lanphere in superb condition, trimmed Northwestern college here Wednesday night, 5 to 1. Lanphere struck out 13 men, walking one and allowed only four hits, two of them of the scratch variety. During the first four innings it was a scoreless battle between Lanphere and Fischer. After two errors had given Northwestern her one and only run in the fourth inning, the visitors broke through in the fifth, collected three runs. Fischer lasted one more inning and Jagger replaced him. Score by innings:

Milton.....000 031 101—5 11 3
Northwestern.....000 100 000—1 4 4

Whitewater Meets La Crosse Normal

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE]

Whitewater.—La Crosse normal, one of the leading baseball outfits of the Wisconsin normal schools, defeated the Whitewater team here Friday afternoon in a baseball game. While Coach Agnew's crew has settled down and is hitting a big stride, La Crosse will provide competition for the visitors. The game more than ordinarily interesting. Schultz or Olson will go to the mound for the locals.

Peking. Members of the Chinese government gendarmerie had boarded the train, attacked the Chinese, and seized a quantity of loot, retaining possession of the train for several hours, despite the protests of foreigners. Consular agents at Peking, adding the Chinese officials, finally persuaded the gendarmerie to leave.

Two trains of coal from a mine near Tsaochwang were seized by the bandits. The 500 troops who were pursuing the coal were said to be untrustworthy and likely to go over to the brigands.

The American consuls at Peking and Tsaochwang have imposed a censorship on all outgoing telegrams and letters.

Bandits Blame Peking.

The bandits are reported to blame the Peking government for the trouble. They claim that the Peking government has been withdrawing troops. The Tschun of Shantung province renewed his assurance that the troops would be moved away, but the bandits are quoted as saying they will hold the captives two weeks longer.

Another phase of the situation which is causing worry in official circles is dissatisfaction among the Chinese soldiers, many of whom have not been paid for more than a year and are on short rations.

Deatoku mountain, to which the bandits have fled, is 30 miles from Tsaochwang. The latest message from there was from Leon Friedman, a captive and said:

"Don't expect release for several weeks. Negotiations progressing slowly. Health good."

Diplomats Demand Action.

In Peking, the diplomatic corps sent the Chinese government an urgent communication, expressing astonishment at its failure to obtain results and repeating a previous notification that the government would be held responsible, while further delay in effecting the release of the foreigners would cause additional penalties to be exacted.

Reports to Peking were not optimistic. Negotiations with the bandits were reported at a deadlock.

If you listen to the teachings of affliction the first time it visits you it may not have occasion to call again.

Whitewater Legion Off to Big Start Play Here Sunday

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE]

Whitewater.—This year's American legion team of Whitewater, champions last year of the southern Wisconsin league, has started off with a rush and promise to make a grand showing in home talent circles of the south end of Badgerdom. The legionnaires so far have got away with two victories, one from Elkhorn and the other from the Bradley Knit-Wears of Delavan, the latter last Sunday.

"Our team this year is stronger than last," says P. H. O'Neill, manager. "We are playing independent baseball and are strictly home town."

"Chief" Agnew, athletic director of Whitewater normal school, is playing first base for the local legion. Rhoads, well known to high school boys of this section as referee of the Whitewater sectional basketball tournament and an old normal star, is holding down second.

Wednesday night, Whitewater goes to Janesville to play the Tunk Corps. This game will open the season for the Bover city national guardmen.

The team in the city series, which may be had by writing to P. H. O'Neill or phoning him at 331-W.

Milton and 'Pede' Stop Northwestern in 6 to 1 Victory

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE]

Watertown.—Pedro Lanphere, veteran pitcher, held Northwestern college of this city to three hits and struck out 13 men Wednesday afternoon. Milton college returning home with a 6 to 1 victory. Lanphere was a downright invincible and was given first class support.

Northwestern tried out two pitchers without success. Milton, though not lacking in the six innings, got their sticks swinging heavily in the latter part of the battle. In the sixth they knocked the local pitcher from the mound and then proceeded to continue the slaughter. Statistics of Milton featured with a triple. Baker of Coach Grandville's Miltonites out down a possible homer in the sixth with a pretty run and jump to spear the apple.

Walker and Tunney Retain Fight Titles

Chicago.—Mickey Walker, of Elizabeth, N. J., world's welterweight champion won in a 10 round bout here Wednesday night, but in Cowboy Badgett of Dolores, Colo., encountered a ring veteran who was able to assimilate all the punishment dealt out and bared in for more. Walker knocked Badgett off his feet in the first and fourth rounds. Gene Tunney of New York, the American light heavyweight champion broke his right hand in the second round of 10 rounds bout with Jimmy Delaney, St. Paul, but, fighting entirely with his left hand, scored so heavily in the late rounds newspaper men gave him a shade victory.

Beloit Revives Triangular Meet on Cinder Path

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE]

Beloit.—After a lapse of 13 years, Beloit, Lake Forest and Armour this week revive the old triangular track meet, adding Northwestern of Janesville this Saturday to make it a quadrangular affair on Lake Forest field.

Beloit fans are confident of cleaning up the four-sided turnover by a speedy margin, but the North Shore squad may prove a tough foe. Not much opposition is expected from the Naperville athletes, and Armour is handed only a half dozen points in advance figures.

With two wins in dual meets to her credit, Beloit will make this week a preliminary workout for the big midwest conference, meet at Galea, Ill. Beloit is one of the main objectives. Beloit has won from Cornell and Coe colleges, and made a fair showing against Wisconsin in an early dual contest. A year ago the Gold ruled third in the conference meet, and although Carlson and Innox are still powerful, Coach Osgood's men look for a better showing.

Sixteen men will journey to Lake Forest Saturday morning. Beloit will attempt to roll up points in the field events and may register some gain on the track, especially in the dash and hurdles. Gold middle distance runners are weak, but Moore's half mile run at Coe in 2:04 looks good. Dabneren in the weights—the big "Suede" has broken his own diacus record for two weeks straight in midwest meets—should count several points; Nygren and Vondrashek as javelin hurlers, McAllister and Gates in the pole vault and Adde and Gates in the broad jump are Osgood's best bets.

Beloit won the last triangular meet at Lake Forest, back in 1909.

Legion Not Behind Dempsey Combat

Indianapolis.—Alvin Owsley, national commander of the American legion, in a statement Wednesday declared he desired "to remove the impression that the legion is connected in any respect with the Jack Dempsey-Tom Gibson heavy weight championship match to be held at Shelby, Montana, July 4. Loy U. Moulumbly, commander of the Montana department of the legion, one of the promoters of the bout, is acting as a private individual. Commander Owsley contends.

TITLE OF "PUNCH BAG" FOR DEMPSEY SHIPPED

300 BANQUET IN NEW HIGH SCHOOL

Blind Pupils Entertain Convention—President's Address in Afternoon.

Three hundred persons attended the Wisconsin Parent-Teachers' association convention banquet in the high school cafeteria here, Wednesday night. Students of the state school for the blind furnished an entertainment program of vocal and instrumental music, consisting of the following numbers:

Orchestra—"Blue Danube Waltzes," chorus, "Song of the Vikings," piano solo, "Caprice Bragante," Helen Peterson; French horn and cornet, duet with orchestra, "Miserere," Hubert Gittings, Alton Davis; girls' trio, "When Twilight Weaves," Ruth Hoppe, Sophronia Peterson, Olga Lancour; orchestra, "Bridal Rose," chorus, "Spring Song" and "Bella Napoli," trombone solo with orchestra, "Trump, Trump, Trump," Lyle Watson; orchestra, "King Cotton," Sousa.

The only speaking consisted of an impromptu debate by Dean J. P. Ryan and Supt. Frank Holt, with Rev. R. G. Pierson as referee, and which proved quite amusing to the assembly.

President's Address
Mrs. George M. Tremper, Kenosha, state president, gave an illuminating report of the work throughout the state in an address delivered Wednesday afternoon. Following are extracts from the address:

"The average attendance at P. T. A. meetings per month in Wisconsin is 7,000. Our paid-up membership is 7,000. Do you not see how much more the state association could do for you if each parent paid ten cents per year? With one-half the dues which the state retains we could print a bigger and better bulletin, publish a year book annually, prepare helps along all lines for state committee chairmen, district and county chairmen. We could send the state president out at least once a year to associations needing this personal contact. We have gone through some trying financial times, determined always not to levy assessments but to grow to financial independence through the widening interest. It seems that we are to be rewarded for the last year has seen an unprecedented growth and an united energetic activity.

Would Deepen Value
"Let us not be content with a growth in size, but try to deepen the value of each individual association. Our associations, first, last and always are child welfare organizations and child study clubs. We are not organized to interest ourselves in school administration, nor discuss curricula. We have school officials whose business it is to take care of these things. We are organized to bring the home and school together to work out understandingly the problems of future citizens. The programs of the association should be in the hands of a committee. Do not always feel that outside speakers are necessary, but assign short papers to several members. Taking part on the program often develops leaders.

The president averages more than 100 telephone calls per month and from her desk during the past year more than 2,500 pieces of mail have gone out. The bulletin is partially self-supporting through ads. We pay out about $10 per issue in postage. We find that in other states various schools through their print shops issue the bulletins. Could we follow this plan in Wisconsin?

"We find the following activities in reports sent to us: health work in all its phases, child training study through bringing of experts on all phases, having mothers and daughters' day, fathers' night, home talent contests, stay in school drives, hot lunches for rural schools, recreation, especially playground work.

Movement Is Growing
"Our state has been divided into districts following congressional lines and while our organization work is not completed there emanates a unity already most helpful and gratifying. Wisconsin has 31 P. T. A. city councils, several of them headed by men. This emphasizes the fact that children are coming into their own with two parents interested instead of one.

"During the past year the P. T. A. Special has stopped to let the president out to attend the Wisconsin state conference of social work, near east conference, Wisconsin Teachers' association, State Kindergarten association, one district conference, two county conferences, ten executive board meetings, two board of managers meetings, 23 parent-teacher meetings, ten council meetings, three mother and daughter banquets, and helped with a P. T. A. booth at the county fair.

"In going over our reports we should like to tell you of some of the programs that are different, that have been offered the past year. These include:

"State night with members taking part in talks on the various subjects of Wisconsin, economic, physical, mental, moral and artistic.

"Fathers' night with fathers planning program and serving refreshments.

"Many associations have devoted one or more meetings to talks on general school laws and on laws governing school attendance.

"One association had talks on investments by a prominent banker, which were so popular he was asked to repeat them.

H. S. Program Outlined
"We believe that the parents need the knowledge derived from High School P. T. A. associations and the children and teachers need the interest and help of the parents to work out the problems that come at this glorious time. A splendid high school association program has been arranged and may be obtained by writing the national office.

"Madison is the only city on our list which has organized circles for mothers of pre-school age children. The parents of young children will profit by the child training taught in the pre-school circle. Will you not create such a department in your association?"

The address was concluded with a brief report of the national convention. The national association increased its membership by over 100,000 the past year. Various states reported from 20,000 to 80,000 members. The Kansas City council has 60 associations and 22,000 paid-up members.

In an address, Wednesday afternoon, Dr. Caroline Hedger, Chicago, did some straight talking about the needs of children and present-day child development. Dr. Hedger is a physician and social worker with many years experience and is now connected with the Elizabeth McCormick Memorial fund organization which is promoting child welfare in a wide area. Dr. Hedger said all must work to develop 100 percent children, first for financial reasons in order that they might be capable of making their own living; second for the sake of the personal happiness of children and parents; and third because children are the only contribution to the future of race and country.

"You can't have a 100 percent child unless you have a well body to start with," said Dr. Hedger. "We are very slow and dull in the matter of feeble-minded children. Present-day conditions are not conducive to a healthy nervous state. Our children are torn to bits by demands and stimuli. If we chase the child into school by law, we must see that the school does not hurt the child. If the child is not in a fit condition to use the school, we have to foot the bill. Education means drawing out the highest possibilities of the child but we have never given our teachers a fair chance to do this.

"We need to think more about the long haul that is ahead of the child and restrain ourselves from trying to give him too much culture in addition to speeding up his school work. He is building an organism for the long haul. Community standards are needed and campaigns to get all parents to subscribe to such standards."

The speaker told of a "more sleep" campaign being conducted in Sioux City, Ia., in which parents are being signed up on an agreement to put grade school children to bed at 8 o'clock every night. She urged that more medical supervision be needed in school athletics and that nutritional standards should be required.

Convention Notes
At the conclusion of the president's address, Mrs. Tremper was presented with a beautiful basket of roses with the compliments of the Janesville associations. The flowers were borne by little David Lovejoy and Mizpah Yahn, dressed in the P. T. A. colors of yellow and blue. The banquet tables were prettily decorated with wild flowers gathered by the Rev. R. G. Pierson.

In response to Supt. Holt's address of welcome, Mrs. F. C. Hopkins, Waukesha, said: "Janesville has made us feel that we were not only expected but royally welcomed. Mrs. A. F. Menzies, state chairman of social standards, distributed mimeographed lists of state agencies that are ready to cooperate with P. T. A. workers in the furnishing of speakers and other helps to promote higher social standards.

Mrs. Edith Hoyt, chairman of legislation, reported that no laws detrimental to educational interests have yet been passed and that acceptance of the provisions of the Sheppard-Towner law and the defeat of the bill that endangered kindergarten were victories for child welfare.

A pretty feature of Wednesday afternoon's program was the first salute given by St. Mary's Girl Scouts.

a new group recently organized at that school.

District chairmen who gave reports at Wednesday afternoon's session were Mrs. George Zachow, Milwaukee; Mrs. Julius Windom, Wisconsin Rapids.

L. J. COLE, CHAIRMAN OF CATTLE COMMITTEE
Washington, L. J. Cole of the Wisconsin college of agriculture will head a committee which is to formulate plans to promote the improvement of cattle breeding.

At a conference held here, under the joint auspices of the National Research council and the United States department of agriculture, this committee was appointed to formulate a genetic program in cattle breeding, standardize methods in general record keeping and managing practices; and standardize methods for correction for age and taking measurements, photographs, and other kinds of data. Among those who attended the conference from the middle west were Dr. F. R. Little, University of Chicago; Dr. E. E. Ball, formerly with the Wisconsin department of agriculture; W. W. Yapp, Illinois; C. H. Eckles, Minnesota; and Cole of Wisconsin, who was recently appointed chief of the division of animal husbandry, department of agriculture.

BLAINE SIGNS BILL PROTECTING LOTUS

Madison—The American lotus has become a protected flower in Wisconsin Thursday with the governor's signature to a committee on state affairs bill making it an offense punishable by six months' imprisonment to destroy lotus plants. The conservation commission is instructed to mark places where lotus are found, warning persons against their destruction.

Besides giving rural clergymen an opportunity to take in this im-
